The Epic AI Program Manager will oversee the deployment and management of AI applications from the Nebula platform, ensuring seamless integration into clinical workflows. This role involves managing the overall performance and maintenance of the Nebula platform, coordinating with clinical application teams to prepare AI solutions for deployment, and collaborating with operational leaders to implement these tools effectively within the appropriate clinical and operational contexts. The manager will partner with key stakeholders to prioritize solutions that offer the greatest potential for enhancing patient outcomes and operational efficiency, while ensuring the platform's robustness and reliability.

As a recognized expert in Epic clinical applications and AI integration, the Epic AI Program Manager will leverage comprehensive knowledge to lead complex, high-impact projects that cross the health system. This role is pivotal in managing the Nebula platform, ensuring its reliability and efficiency, while driving the deployment of AI applications. The manager will foster strategic partnerships with Epic and other stakeholders to explore early adoption opportunities and stay at the forefront of AI advancements in healthcare. This role is critical to ensuring the successful use of AI at scale at UCSF Health to drive value across all UCSF Health priority areas. The role will leverage meaningful Epic technology in collaboration with the Health AI team and other stakeholders across all UCSF Health priority areas, fostering improvement in patient experience, patient safety, high-value care, financial strength, and provider satisfaction.

The final salary and offer components are subject to additional approvals based on UC policy.

Your placement within the salary range is dependent on a number of factors including your work experience and internal equity within this position classification at UCSF. For positions that are represented by a labor union, placement within the salary range will be guided by the rules in the collective bargaining agreement.

The salary range for this position is $177,100 - $195,000 (Annual Rate).
